Task: To write a letter to Miss Trunchbull persuading her not put children in the chokey.

Dear Miss Trunchbull,

I am writing this letter to you..._____

L.I. To draw inferences about characters in a text.

Success Criteria:

I can pick out clues about characters from a text.

I can use these clues to make guesses about the characters.

I can experiment with adjectives.

Task:

Create a character profile for Miss Trunchbull describing her personality and appearance. Include her talent (hammer throwing) and describe her relationships with students, parents, and Miss Honey. Read chapter 8 'The Trunchbull' cruel athletic menacing hard-faced beastly arrogant heartless fierce unapproachable selfish thick arms gigantic powerful legs nasty monster

L.I. To identify and use words that creates a setting.

Success Criteria:

I can discuss words and phrases that capture the reader's imagination.

I can use a range of appropriate adjectives for impact.

I can use a range of appropriate adverbs.

I can use a mixture of simple and complex sentences.

Key vocabulary

busy overcrowded noisy screaming enormous bustling bright swiftly cheerfully energetically carelessly

Task: To describe a school playground

Sentence starters:

As I stood in the middle of...

In the distance, there were...

Fresh air was upon us...

As I cautiously moved through the overcrowded playground...

Challenge

Can you include-

Verbs: How they play? (do they shuffle, stride, skip etc.)

Adverbs: How are the children moving around? (confidently, cautiously, briskly etc.)

Similes: comparing two things using like or as (the energetic boys ran around the playground as fast as a cheetah)

LI: To create a mood through language.

Success criteria:

I can use inverted commas to mark speech.

I can use different synonyms for said.

I can use a range of adverbs in my writing.

Task:

Read chapter 10 'Throwing the hammer'
Write a dialogue between Matilda, Lavender and Hortensia showing how their mood changes.

What might Hortensia be saying to Matilda and Lavender?

How might the girls reply?

How could you show their mood when you record this?

'I suppose you know the Trunchbull has a lock-up cupboard in her private quarters called The Chokey? Have you heard about The Chokey?'

Matilda and Lavender shook their heads and continued to gaze up at the giant. Being very small, they were inclined to mistrust any creature that was larger than they were, especially senior girls.

'The Chokey,' Hortensia went on, 'is a very tall but very narrow cupboard. The floor is only ten inches square so you can't sit down or squat in it. You have to stand. And three of the walls are made of cement with bits of broken glass sticking out all over, so you can't lean against them. You have to stand more or less at attention all the time when you get locked up in there. It's terrible.'

'Can't you lean against the door?' Matilda asked.

'Don't be daft,' Hortensia said. 'The door's got thousands of sharp spiky nails sticking out of it. They've been hammered through from the outside, probably by the Trunchbull herself.'

'Have you ever been in there?' Lavender asked.

'My first term I was in there six times,' Hortensia said. 'Twice for a whole day and the other times for two hours each. But two hours is quite bad enough. It's pitch dark and you have to stand up dead straight and if you wobble at all you get spiked either by the glass on the walls or the nails on the door.'

LI: To write a narrative.

Success Criteria:

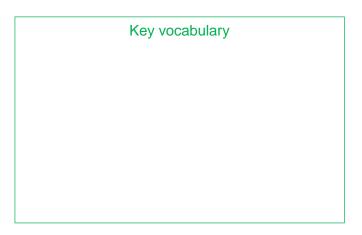

I can create a character and a setting in a narrative.

I can sequence ideas and information logically e.g., by using fronted adverbials.

I can experiment with adjectives to create impact.

You are going to write your own story based on Matilda by Roald Dahl.

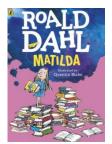

1. Your first task is to create a word bank of powerful vocabulary that you can use in your story. You can also select words from the text.

2. Now your main task.

Write your own story about a young girl or boy who has magical powers.

Remember to plan out your ideas and include a beginning, middle and an end to your story. Also remember to think, say, write and check each sentence.
